International Certification Program for Oncology Acupuncture

This is the first and most comprehensive course in the field of oncology acupuncture as collaboration of OGKA and TCM Academy Of Integrative Medicine

Dear colleagues!

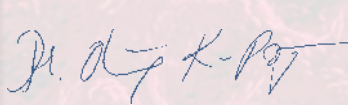

There is a great need for practitioners who have skills in the field of integrative Chinese Medicine oncology.

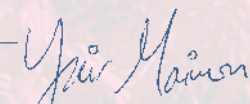

Oncology acupuncture is a special field which offers the acupuncturist distinct tools to help both patients with cancer and patients who have had cancer in the past.

Almost any acupuncturist is dealing in their office with patients affected by cancer. The western and TCM knowledge covered in this program will give the participants important tools for clinical success.

The combination of the western and TCM approach will also enhance the skills to communicate better with the western medical oncology care.

Our program graduates will immediately benefit from being able to implement their knowledge in practice, with a high degree of confidence in their ability of treating oncology patients integratively.
